Search a book

This is the same than guests, but with a little difference, we'll see it in the next action.

The screenshot shows a web application interface for a library member named nacho1. The page has a light blue header with the text "Welcome nacho1". On the left, there is a search bar labeled "Search by author:" with a text input field containing "Author" and a magnifying glass icon. The main content area displays a list of books. The first two books are "Don quijote" and "Don quijote2", both written by "Juan de la cuesta" and "Juan de la costa" respectively. Each book entry includes a placeholder image labeled "IMAGE NOT AVAILABLE" and a small calendar icon with the number "31" and a shopping cart icon. The footer of the page states "Page created by Nacho Gómez".

Book a book

If you're here and you didn't see the difference between guests and members is because you're blind. But never mine I'm here to help you, there's a little icon in each book to do a reservation of it if you're interested to read it.

You only need to select the day that when you will like to borrow the book.

The screenshot shows a web application interface with a light blue header containing the text "Welcome nacho1". Below the header, there is a white box with a blue border containing a reservation form. The form is titled "Reservations" and includes three input fields: a text input field containing "2", a text input field containing "6", and a date input field with a placeholder "dd/mm/aaaa". Below these fields is a button labeled "Reservation".

See your cart

Now all the books you have saved to your cart you will see it. If you want to buy more than one book, you can increase or decrease the book (if you want to delete a book, just put the quantity to 0). You can see more than one button of cart, that's to see different ways to save the products.
